19/03/2019

Greek Dep. FM on ecclesiastical diplomacy

Deputy Foreign Affairs Minister Markos Bolaris this week said the exercise of religious and ecclesiastical diplomacy was a challenge for the foreign ministry, especially for a country like Greece, which has been at the cross-roads of civilizations and peoples over past centuries.

He spoke during an interview granted to the Athens News Agency, the country’s national press agency.