Archbishop Makarios of Australia: “Do not regret that you have given your love”

“Do not regret that you have given your love. Do not regret that you have loved people. Love is a spiritual investment.” underlines His Eminence Archbishop Makarios of Australia, among other things, in his new message of spiritual edification and benefit, which he posted on the Instagram social networking platform.

“Burn the record of hate and malice which you have in your heart and in your thoughts,” His Eminence also urges, emphasising that the person who loves is never weak, but the one who is strong.

In detail, the Archbishop of Australia states in his message:

“Sometimes your own worst enemy is your memory. Allow the old to pass, burn the record of hate and malice which you have in your heart and in your thoughts, and remember the person who loves is never weak, but rather the one who is strong. Because it is easy to ‘fall in love’ nowadays, but difficult to truly love. All the love which you have given to the wrong people at some point will be returned to you.

Do not regret that you have given your love. Do not regret that you have loved people. Love is a spiritual investment. Love is way of life. Love is Christ himself.
