

09/07/2019

Patriarch Kirill: Church reps must speak the language of modern man

The Patriarch of Moscow and All Russia, His Holiness Kirill, this week called on the Church and its representatives to “...speak the language of modern man”, as he said, in addressing clerics in a sermon after a Divine Liturgy at the chapel of St. Arsenius.

He added “... We must learn to interpret our tradition in such a manner whereby it is made clear to modern man.”