

14/07/2019

New Documentary Features Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese of North America Youth in Building Project

A newly recently documentary, "Building Hope," features teens from St. Ignatius Antiochian Orthodox Church in Franklin, Tennessee participating in a homebuilding project sponsored by Project Mexico and St. Innocent Orphanage. Directed by Adam Lowell Roberts, this documentary follows five teenagers as they build a house in Mexico for a homeless family. The movie was produced by the Antiochian Archdiocese under the auspices of the Department of Missions and Evangelism, with the aim of demonstrating the importance of mission trips.

YOUTUBE.COM

Building Hope, a feature-length documentary

– Source: Antiochian Orthodox Christian Archdiocese of North America