

22/07/2019

Policy statements by new Greek education & religious affairs minister

Speaking from Parliament's podium to announce her ministry's policy statements, new Education and Religious Affairs Minister Niki Kerameos on Monday cited the first initial discussions she had last week with Church of Greece hierarchs, merely reiterating that dialogue will continue based on respect of the distinct roles and lines between Church and state.