Patriarch John X of Antioch extended wishes to Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew on his name day

His Beatitude Patriarch John X of Antioch and All East sent a congratulatory message to His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew on the occasion of his name day.

The message read: “On the joyous feast of your patron saint, I take this opportunity to pray to the all-good God to grant you long life, strength, and health so that you may continue your work for the good of your local church and for the benefit of Orthodoxy as a whole. I express my hope for the continued cooperation between our two churches for all that is good and right”.
