

13/08/2019

Condolences by Russian Patriarch over deaths of five scientists at a military test site

The Patriarch of Moscow and All Russia, His Holiness Kirill, has extended his condolences to the families and loved ones of five scientists killed last week during the test of a missile engine on an offshore platform in the White Sea.