

Patriarch Daniel expresses solidarity with Syrian Christians amid ongoing conflicts

His Beatitude Patriarch Daniel of Romania sent a message of solidarity to His Beatitude John X, Patriarch of Antioch and All the East.

The Romanian Orthodox Church expresses its profound solidarity with the Orthodox Christians in Syria in the context of the recent conflicts.

Bucharest, 10 December 2024

His Beatitude John X,
Patriarch of Antioch and All the East

Your Beatitude,

In the context of the recent events in Syria, we would like to assure Your Beatitude of our deepest solidarity with Orthodox Christians under your spiritual and canonical jurisdiction, as well as with all those suffering from the ongoing violence and conflicts.

We pray the All-Merciful God to protect all Christian communities in the country, keeping them steadfast in faith and hope. At the same time, we pray that our Lord Jesus Christ may grant peace and stability to people in Syria, so that those who have been displaced may return to their homeland and contribute to the rebuilding and strengthening of their communities.

With fraternal love in Christ the Lord,

† Daniel
Patriarch of the Romanian Orthodox Church

Photo credit: Basilica.ro

basilica.ro