

28/08/2019

Russian Church to open another children's shelter on Thursday

The Russian Orthodox Church on Thursday will open another family shelter in the Russian capital. The Moscow Patriarchate has unveiled an extensive social support program, which aims to operate shelters for children facing serious illnesses, along with their parents or guardians, in practically every region of the world's largest country.