

Archbishop of America, His Eminence Elpidophoros, arrives in Boston for Saturday's Feast Day of the Elevation of the Venerable and Life-Giving Cross

The Archbishop of America, His Eminence Elpidophoros, arrived in Boston this week for Saturday's Feast Day of the Elevation of the Venerable and Life-Giving Cross.

While in the New England metropolis, the Archbishop also referred to the problems faced by the Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology, following his meetings with the seminary's leadership and professors.

Elpidophoros later reiterated that the school's viability is among his top priorities.
