Cappella Romana Choir will perform for Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew at Fordham University

During his upcoming Apostolic Visit to the U.S. in September 2025, His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew will engage with clergy, youth, and laity at numerous public events, offering the faithful opportunities to receive his blessing and participate in worship services.

One such public event will take place on September 23, 2025, when His All-Holiness will visit Fordham University and the Orthodox Christian Studies Center at the school's Rose Hill Campus in New York City. A celebratory concert by Cappella Romana Choir will take place at 6pm in University Church (overflow: Leonard Theatre, Fordham Preparatory School).

Further details about the Patriarchal Visit will be announced in the coming weeks.
