What would you say to His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew?

How has His All-Holiness touched your life, inspired your faith, or strengthened your spiritual journey? If you had the opportunity to speak with him and share your thoughts, what would you say?

The Orthodox Observer invites you to submit short reflections to be shared when he arrives in the U.S. this September. Your reflections, questions, and messages are a meaningful way to welcome our spiritual father and express appreciation for the deep spiritual connection he nurtures around the world.

Submit your message here and be part of this historic moment.

Please note that submissions may be selected for anonymous publication on Orthodox Observer and Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America platforms.
