

Church today venerates memory of Sts. Xanthippe & Polyxena

The Church venerates the memory of Sts. Xanthippe and Polyxena of Spain, sisters and disciples of the Apostles. Both tirelessly preached the faith and baptized numerous women into Christianity, living in the first century during the reign of Roman Emperor Claudius.