Pavlos Marinakis meets with Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew

“It is always a particularly honourable and deeply moving moment to meet His All-Holiness Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew,” wrote the Deputy Minister to the Prime Minister of Greece and Government Spokesperson, Mr. Pavlos Marinakis, in a post on social media.

“His wisdom, composure, and authority constitute a constant source of inspiration and guidance for the demanding continuation of our work.

I thank him warmly and from the heart for the honour,” the government spokesperson added.
