

The 2026 Autumn International Food Festival in Seoul

On Sunday, October 18, 2026, the annual Autumn International Food Festival took place. Over the past 15 years, it has become a well-established tradition that residents of the wider area look forward to each year.

This year too, many members of the St. Nicholas Cathedral community in Seoul, of Orthodox Metropolis of Korea, spent the days beforehand working with dedication and effort to prepare and run the festival, which was held after the Sunday Divine Liturgy in the cathedral courtyard.

Despite the bad weather, many people came to enjoy the delicious food and sweets prepared and served by our volunteers.

Once again, the young people of the “Syndesmos” group gave their very best, taking on many of the practical tasks needed to look after our visitors.

We glorify God, who helped us hold the International Autumn Food Festival once more this year, and we warmly thank everyone who contributed to this work.

orthodoxkorea.org