Patriarch Irinej receives noted motivational speaker Nick Vujicic

The Patriarch of the Serbian Orthodox Church, His Holiness Irinej, this week met with well-known anthropologist, author and motivational speaker Nick Vujicic, who was born without hands and legs, but who with the grace of God serves as an inspiration to millions of people around the world.

The Primate of the Serbian Orthodox Church gave his blessing to Vujicic, praising his faith in God and life, as well as his work, while the latter thanked the Patriarch, before adding:

“… I do not need hands and legs, but I must believe in the Lord.”

Nick Vujicic received his first university degree in economics, before marrying and
