

Catholicos-Patriarch of All Georgia: I have never thought of punishing anyone. I always think only of your help

I have never thought of punishing anyone. I always think only of your help, His Holiness and Beatitude Catholicos-Patriarch of All Georgia said.

As it is written in the protocol of the Holy Synod meeting held on Thursday, the Patriarch said that the Church must do everything to ensure peace in the country as well as in Church.

“We should not give the public reason to be obstructed towards the faith and Church.

Today, we are gathered here not to punish anyone, but to help one another. We should not make each other’s burden heavier. I have never thought of punishing anyone. I always think only of your help,” the Patriarch said.
