

Catholicos-Patriarch of All Georgia Ilia II: Do not abuse and slander each other, but love each other!

Kiss you parents on their hands every day and ask them for their blessing. Their blessing means that you will live under God's blessing, His Holiness and Beatitude Ilia II, Catholicos-Patriarch of All Georgia said after the Sunday sermon today.

The patriarch preached about talent and called on believers to appreciate talented people because "there is no untalented person."

"Remember, earth is nothing, it is dead without humans. That's why you should take care of your children, your parents. I have said many times to you that respecting your parents is a great gift. Kiss you parents on their hands every day and ask them for their blessing. Their blessing means that you will live under God's blessing

Talent is given by God. I want to tell you that every person has some talent. It is God-given, it is a gift. It is not our merit, it is a gift from God, you have to appreciate it, you have to tell a talented person that he/she is talented, support him/her and you will be happy and he/she will be happy too.

Do not abuse each other, do not slander each other, but please, love each other. John the Apostle tells us: love one another and you will be happy. God is with us!
"The Patriarch said.
