19/11/2019

Archdiocese of Athens establishes IT-digital applications service

The Archdiocese of Athens is set to establish an independent IT and digital applications service, with the relevant decision already published in the Greek government gazette.

The service will represent the Archdiocese in international and Greek fora and in events focusing on IT and telecoms applications, as well as in dealings with both the public and private sectors.