Orthodox Church of Albania offers support, prayer to quake-stricken in the country

The Orthodox Church of Albania on Tuesday announced that it will offer all possible assistance to those who have suffered damage and injuries from a 6.4 on the Richter scale earthquake that struck the central coastal region of the country the same day.

The Church also offered its prayers and expressed its condolences to the families of the victims in the quake, which by Tuesday afternoon had rose to seven.

Live from Albania now.
