

I don't enjoy church, does that mean I'm going to Hell?

Many put this question: If I don't enjoy church, does that mean that I'm going to Hell?

Well, this is a worrisome sign because the services are the preview of paradise ...or rather they should be.

So, the main problem is with us – with our distorted nature which doesn't want to accept the types of tranquility and (mostly-inner) actions of the paradise.

Now, here are some problems because the ones which make the services are sinners too. So this preview is can be also much less compared to what it should be.

In any case, our job is not to judge but to be here and to get used with the heaven's kingdom and try to raise our mind to the heavenly realities.

In this way this parasite of the Adam's fall will slowly fade away and with our Lord mercy, at our death we will be more or less ready for the Kingdom of Heaven.

In the photo a candid shot from the Divine Liturgy held at Vatopedi monastery, Mount Athos.

— Source: asceticexperience.com