

Special distinction for Orthodox Academy of Crete

The Orthodox Academy of Crete will be awarded a special distinction by the Athens-based Athanassios Botsis Journalism Promotion Foundation.

The foundation announced that the Academy is being honored for its half-century of work in the defense of universal human rights.

The distinction will be awarded during the Botsis Foundation's 36th annual awards ceremony, in the presence of Greek President of the Republic Prokopis Pavlopoulos