06/02/2020

Saint Sava Day in Jackson, California

Saint Sava Serbian Orthodox Church in Jackson, California, celebrated the feast day of its patron saint for the 125th time. The church was full with faithful, who were blessed by visit and service of the diocesan deacon Vladan Radovanović and his family. The Rice family were the Kumovi of this year's celebration and prepared a delicious meal and thoughtful gifts for youth and children, who prepared a wonderful and educative program. All together, it was yet another memorable day in the rich history of this parish, as a foretaste of the Day Everlasting.

— Source: Western American Diocese & spc.rs