Ecumenical Patriarch visits Holy Metropolis of Vryoula, in western coastal Asia Minor

The Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople, His All Holiness Bartholomew I, visited the Holy Metropolis of Vryoula this week, in coastal western Asia Minor, where he blessed the Vicarage and the Metropolis' chapel.

While there, the Ecumenical Patriarch venerated the miracle-working Holy Icon of the Panaghia Vourliotissa and the refectory, expressing a wish to return soon for the dedication of a new chapel.
