Metropolitan Bishop of Montenegro points to mass participation by young people in peaceful rallies against contentious law

The Metropolitan Bishop of Montenegro and the Littoral, His Eminence Amphilochios, referred to the mass participation of young people in twice-weekly rallies and prayers services in the small Adriatic country, held in protest against a controversial law that the Church charges is a thinly veiled attempt to by the Montenegro state to seize its properties and relics.

His Eminence referred to a miracle, citing the number of young people and young families participating in the peaceful protests.
