18/04/2020

Church spokesman: Russian Orthodox clerics following all guidelines in order to minister, comfort those in hospitals

The chairman of the Moscow Patriarchate's Department for Church's Society and Mass Media Relations, Vladimir Legoida, said Russian Orthodox clerics are willing and accepting of strict health precautions due to the pandemic, in order to continue visiting, comforting and ministering to people in hospitals and hospices.