23/04/2020

Russian cleric, academic: Violating pandemic restrictions contravenes Christian morality

The head of the bioethics and hi-tech research center within the Moscow Theological Academy, Fr. Vladimir Ducovic, this week wrote that violating restrictive measures imposed to contain the coronavirus contravenes Christian morality.

Fr. Vladimir also emphasized that amid the current situation it is inconceivable to speak of any type of persecution of the Church by the state, or of any “lack of faith”.