03/06/2020

Worshipers return to Church services at Moscow-area cathedrals

The first Church services with the presence of worshipers were conducted this week at Moscow's iconic Cathedral of Christ the Savior and the Epiphany Cathedral at Yelokhovo, after coronavirus-related measures were lifted by the Russian government.

Public health guidelines and precautions were still in place, as the Divine Liturgy was celebrated with worshipers adhering to social distancing protocol and sanitary measures.