

Be the Bee: Does God Have a Plan for You?

Young people struggle under an incredible amount of pressure: to get the “best” grades, to get into the “right” school, etc.

Unfortunately, this pressure persists into adulthood. We are constantly pushed to perform. Sometimes, we even define ourselves (and our worth, as people) by what we do.

But the Church offers a different vision. Life is about more than getting the best grades and making the most money. Life is about rising to God’s call.

In the season finale of “Be the Bee,” Steve is joined by Anna Karos to explore how we can figure out what God wants for us. They draw inspiration from the lessons taught during the CrossRoad Summer Institute, a program designed to help high school juniors and seniors discover their vocation.
