

Con-celebratory service at historic Cathedral of the Archangels in southern Mani

The Metropolitan of Mani, His Eminence Chrysostomos III, on the occasion of the Sunday of the Holy Fathers of the 4th Ecumenical Council, officiated at a con-celebratory service at the historic Cathedral of the Archangels, in the extreme southern Greece harbor town of Areopolis – the same church were many of the Greek War of Independence military leaders swore an oath of allegiance to the struggle in 1821.

Clergy and the laity together chanted the Byzantine Ypermachō Stratigō hymn, when reference was made to the blasphemous decision to reconvert the Hagia Sophia.
