

Church of Greece to organized series of event during next year's bicentennial of Greek War of Independence - (VIDEO + PHOTOS)

The Archbishop of Athens and All Greece, His Beatitude Ieronymos, on Thursday announced a series of synodical and regional events for next year's celebration of the bicentennial of the Greek War of Independence, with the Orthodoxia News Agency live-streaming His Beatitude's address.

The Autocephalous Orthodox Church of Greece plans to honor the memory of those who struggled and fell for "Christ's Holy Faith, for the homeland and for liberty."

A special emphasis will be placed on the contribution of the Orthodox Church in the preparations for the national uprising and the rebirth of the nation.

Camera: Manolis Dimellas - Report: Romanos Alvertis

Photos: Christos Mponis - Georgios Ferdis