

Archbishop of America Elpidophoros visits two Greek-American parochial schools

The Archbishop of America, His Emience Elpidophoros, toured two Greek-American Parochial Schools on Friday morning, in order to visit the pupils and educators and to personally verify the health and safety measures that have been mandated. The Archbishop was welcomed by staff and pupils at the William Spyropoulos Greek-American Day School, operated by the St. Nicholas Orthodox parish in Flushing, as well as the Greek American Institute of New York, located in the Bronx.

