

Feast day of St. Anastasia the Martyr

The Church today venerates the memory of Anastasia the Martyr of Rome.

St. Anastasia, who was young in age and lived in a convent, was seized by the impious.

Confessing Christ openly and with boldness, and enduring numerous torments, she was beheaded in the year 256, during the reign of Valerian.