

Russian Patriarch extends best wishes for speeding recovery of Archbishop of Albania

The Patriarch of Moscow and All Russia, His Holiness Kirill, has addressed a message of support to Archbishop Anastasios, who has been hospitalized for a week now in a central Athens hospital after testing positive for COVID-19.

In his letter, the Russian Patriarch writes "...I supplicate warmly to the Only Physician of our souls and bodies, the Savior of all our diseases in favor of Your rapid recovery from the disease, so that with good health and strength You continue Your sacrificial ministry as a Primate for the benefit of the Church of Albania and of Orthodoxy as a whole."
