Kusturica bids farewell to reposed Serbian Patriarch: 'His voice has not been silenced, He left behind no quarrels, nor difficult discussions'

Noted director Emir Kusturica bid his last farewell to reposed Serbian Patriarch Irinej with a touching post, stressing that "...Our patriarch passed through the pearly gates...His voice has not been silenced, He left behind no quarrels, nor difficult discussions, things which our mentality often places into the center of our lives. Faith in the eternal life is alive."
