

Archdiocese of America approves its 2021 budget

The budget of the Archdiocese of America for 2021 was approved this week, with the Archbishop of America, His Eminence Elpidophoros, expressed appreciation for the work done by all to accomplish the important task.

He noted that “...In this year of personal and economic difficulties, it was especially hard to craft a balanced budget, while maintaining flat total commitment revenues from our parishes — and increasing support to Hellenic College Holy Cross. Those budget constraints necessitated notable changes in the affairs of our Archdiocese.”

His Eminence said support to Hellenic College Holy Cross will be boosted, and also maintaining an additional one-million-dollar annual commitment to the Archdiocese’s pension program.
