

Russian Patriarch Kirill congratulates country's FM

The Patriarch of Moscow and All Russia, His Holiness Kirill, this week conveyed his greetings to Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov, on the occasion of Diplomat's Day, which is celebrated in the vast country every year on February 10.

In his message, Patriarch Kirill expressed his support for the minister's "resistance" – as he said – to "attempts by various political forces to use false propaganda, double standards, and violence."
