

17/02/2021

Photographs of snow-covered churches, monasteries throughout Greece

The worst winter storm of the season so far, this week blanketed much of mainland Greece and several islands with snow, causing power outages and the closing of roadways.

Despite inclement weather caused by the storm front, many faithful across the eastern Mediterranean country took the opportunity to photograph and post images of snow-covered monasteries and churches throughout Greece.

