

Focus on religious tourism to Greece

Greece's tourism minister, Haris Theocharis, completed official visits over the recent period to Romania and Serbia, with a portion of his contacts in the southeast European countries focusing on religious tourism and pilgrimages to the former.

Next stops on the minister's itinerary are visits to Russia and Poland.

