Holy Synod of Church of Greece concludes two-day remote sessions on Wed.

On the occasion of World Health Day, annually celebrated on April 7, which this year comes amid the still ongoing and demoralizing Covid-19 pandemic, it's worth remembering that the Autocephalous Orthodox Church of Greece last summer donated medical equipment worth 97,000 euros to the country's national health system.

In a related development, members of the standing Holy Synod of the Church of Greece met remotely for a second straight day on Wednesday.
