Feast Day of St. John the Russian of Evia commemorated at Convent of the Holy Infants

The Feast Day of St. John the Russian of Evia, or St. John the Confessor, was celebrated at the chapel dedicated to the saint at the Convent of the Holy Infants, outside the Inoi township, north of Athens proper. The Gospel was peached during the service by the convent's founder and spiritual father, the Very Reverend Archimandrite Meletios Stathis.
