Archbishop of Australia officiates at Divine Liturgy at historic Monastery of Epanosifis, on Crete

The Archbishop of Australia, His Eminence Makarios, officiated at the Divine Liturgy held at the historic Monastery of Agios Georgios Epanosifis, near Irakleio, Crete, on the occasion of his brief visit to his native island. His Eminence was due Constantinople to participate in a Holy Synod meeting of the Ecumenical Patriarchate.
Archbishop Makarios was accompanied in the Divine Liturgy by the Abbot of the Holy Monastery, Archimandrite Bartholomew Vogiatzoglou.

A large number of pilgrims were on hand, receiving the blessing of the Archbishop of Australia, while among the congregation were members of his family.
