Nicholas Gage-Gatzoyiannis re-elected president of Pan-epirotic Federation of America

Noted investigative journalist and author Nicholas Gage-Gatzoyiannis has been re-elected as the president of Pan-epirotic Federation of America.

In a statement afterwards, he referred to the US-based group's solidarity to the ethnic Greeks that live in Northern Epirus, in the south of Albania, who continue to experience harassment by Albanian authorities, as he said, as well as to the people in Greece, who continue to face the effects of the economic crisis.
