Bishop Jovan served in Moscow on the feast of Saint Elijah

On the feast day of the Prophet of God Elijah, festivities “Ilyin’s Day on Ilyinke Street” were traditionally held in Moscow.

The celebration began with the Holy Hierarchical Liturgy in the church of Saint Elijah the Prophet, which was served by Their Graces Bishops Teophylact of Mytishchi and Jovan of Slavonia with the concelebration of many priests. After the Liturgy, a procession went to the Red Square, and the thanksgiving service was served to Holy Prophet Elijah at the Execution Ground.
