Celebrating 5 years of streaming: Byzanfest International Orthodox Film Festival

In partnership with the University of St Katherine's, Byzanfest 2021 is the most far reaching Orthodox film festival. The Festival has been streaming and screening the most diverse and creative short and feature films from around the Orthodox world. USK's Byzanfest seeks to share and promote the faith, culture, history and creativity of Orthodoxy on a global scale. All films will be available to stream from the Festival's website. All short-films are free whilst features can be viewed by purchasing our 7-day Festival Pass or individually for 48-hours. The Festival will be streaming online, as well as some physical screenings, from 30 October until 8 November 2021.
