Church services after two years in cathedral in occupied Famagusta

An emotional Divine Liturgy was again celebrated on Sunday at the St. George Exorinos cathedral in occupied Famagusta, after two years of silence, due to the pandemic and various excuses put forth by the occupation regime in the north of the east Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

The Divine Liturgy was officiated by the Protosyngellos of the Metropolis of ConstanTI-a and Famagusta, His Most Reverend Archimandrite Avgoustinos Karas.
