15/11/2021

Archbishop of America met Greek Civil Protection Minister

The Minister of Civil Protection, Takis Theodorikakos, was received by Archbishop Elpidophoros of America at the offices of the Archdiocese of America on Friday morning, as reported by The National Herald.

Takis Theodorikakos arrived at the Archdiocese shortly before 10:00 in the morning, accompanied by his associates. Then he entered the chapel of the Archdiocese, lit a candle and then went up to the office of the Archbishop, who welcomed him.

In the conversation they had, the Archbishop welcomed Takis Theodorikakos and asked him for details about his trip to the USA and the contacts he had the previous days in Washington.

HE Archbishop @Elpidophoros welcomed Greek Minister of Citizens'

> Protection @theodorikakosp to the Archdiocese and discussed the increasingly meaningful advancements in US-Greek relations. “A most welcomed development by all of us in the Greek-American community,” HE said. pic.twitter.com/gj204pqUeF
>
> — Orthodox Observer (@OrthoObserver) November 12, 2021

doxologiainfonews.com