Russian Church assists in construction of new Orthodox monastery in Bosnia

The Moscow Patriarchate’s Protopresbyter Fr. Nikolai Balashov, the deputy chairman of the Department of External Church Relations, on Tuesday toured the under-construction Monastery of St. Matrona of Moscow, which is being built in Bosnia with the blessing of the Serbian Orthodox Church.

A Russian Church delegation headed by Fr. Nikolai arrived in the area after an invitation by the Bishop of Zvornik-Tuzla, His Grace Fotije.
