26/03/2019

Greek Independence Day

Monday, March 25, was also Greek Independence Day, with Greece and Hellenism worldwide celebrating the 198th anniversary of the start of the revolution against dour Ottoman rule.

The Orthodoxia news agency’s web pages this week feature extensive reports, interviews, historical texts and videos on both the major religious and national commemorations in Greece, which for nearly two centuries have been intricately fused into Hellenism’s conscience.