Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew returns to Phanar after week-long pastoral visit to Imvros

The Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople, His All Holiness Bartholomew I, on Thursday concluded a nearly week-long pastoral visit to the northeast Aegean Island of Imvros, his native land.

On Sunday, His All Holiness will arrive on the Marmara Sea Isle of Halki to officiate at a Divine Liturgy at the Halki Theological Seminary to commemorate the memory of St. Photios, Patriarch of Constantinople, the patron saint of the Holy Trinity Monastery on the eponymous isle.
